Two-Day Oil Painting Workshop

With Jenny McIntosh

ROCKS AND NATURAL ELEMENTS IN THE LANDSCAPE

Join artist Jenny McIntosh for an immersive two-day oil painting workshop exploring the beauty and structure of rocks and other natural elements within the landscape.

Building on her recent demonstration for the Kiama Art Society, Jenny will guide you through the process of simplifying complex scenes into clear shapes, tones, and colours, making it easier to capture the essence of your subject.

You'll learn how to observe and interpret geological forms, understand their place in the landscape and create convincing textures and depth.

Particular attention will be on working with a limited palette (perfect if you're new and not wanting to spend too much on paint yet) and when/how to expand your colour range.

This approach really helps to simplify the selection and mixing of colours, making it easier to focus on other aspects of painting such as brushwork.

This workshop will not be necessarily solvent free, but Jenny will give you that option if you're keen.

However, the use of solvent will be minimised.

The techniques covered will easily transfer to any landscape subject (and another genre too).

A materials list will be provided on booking.
